Certified Flight Instructor

Brian Waters

I am a Certified Flight Instructor based out of Long Beach Flying Club at the LGB Airport. I became interested in flying when I was 18 years old. I was attending Orange Coast College and decided to take an Introductory Flight. That day changed my life forever. I continued to train and eventually became a Certified Flight Instructor in 2002. My continued pursuit for adventure brought me to Hawaii where I flew a King Air as a Medivac Pilot. I transported critically injured patients around the Islands with a trauma team. In 2008, I was hired at SkyWest Airlines to fly jets. I was based out of Chicago O'Hare, Denver, and Los Angeles Airports. I have always enjoyed the teaching and instructing aspect of flying. As your instructor I would love to share my passion for aviation with you as you embark on one of the best adventures of your life....Learning 2 Fly!!!!
